

Five Top Dives In The Maltese Islands

The Blue Hole - This dive takes you to Gozo and with the Azure Window as an impressive backdrop this is a dive to take your breath away. The Blue Hole is a stunning circular limestone rock creation that has been developed over thousands of years. The entry and exit presents divers with a breathtaking and memorable experience. Once entered, the diver descends through the crystal clear waters and exit The Blue Hole at 15 metres through an equally impressive archway that is home to many forms of aquatic life.

The Inland Sea Cut off from the open sea by a dominating limestone cliff face, is the Inland Sea, a lagoon of salt water.

The Rozi Deliberately sunk in 1991 to create an attraction for divers, this 40 metre long tug boat sits upright on white sand at 36 metres and is widely regarded as one of the best and most accessible dives in Malta.

The Comino Caves Swimming through the shoals of fish, the diver soon arrives at an impressive cave entrance. Upon entering and switching on torches, the diver will see bright yellow soft corals and deep red sponge on the ceiling before swimming through to the open water beyond. Once the swim through has been negotiated the open water produces an abundance of aquatic life. On this trip the diver can normally see saddled sea bream, octopus, grouper and moray eel.

Um El Faroud Only recently scuttled in 1998, this 109 metre long tanker lies upright on white sand at 35 metres. Home to an abundance of marine life already including amberjack, octopus, squid and grouper this dive is already becoming one of Malta's most popular advanced dives.

Diving In Malta: An Experience to Remember (All Inclusive from £420: flights, transfers, accommodation & Diving)

As a small set of islands surrounded by crystal clear waters it is only natural that it is a popular diving place. Whilst the climate and clear waters make it a nice dive, the wrecks, stunning wildlife, numerous caves and tunnels add to make Malta & Gozo one of the best places in Europe to dive.

Whilst there are various and lots of types of dives to see, the size of the islands including the sister islands of Comino and Gozo means the diving group can get to the different dive sites very quickly. In the morning you could be diving with Barracuda, Tuna, Dolphins and Eagle Ray, have some lunch and then return to dive at another location to have a look at HMS Maori, a 1937 Ship sunk in 1942 from a direct hit from the air.

About Us

Based in London and St Julian's, Malta we offer superb and memorable diving trips to the Jewels in the Mediterranean, Malta and Gozo. The crystal clear waters allowing excellent visibility, the abundance of marine wildlife, the number of stunning wrecks to discover inside and out and the numerous caves and tunnels to explore give the diver an amazing number of options to make this a diving holiday to remember. From flights, accommodation, transfers from airports and to your dives we take care of everything so you can concentrate on preparing yourself for some of the best diving experiences there are. From fun dives to professional courses up to Master Diver Standard, we can cater your holiday to your exact requirements.
